PRESENTATION:

I'm a junior developer who is passionate about tech and building cool projects, looking to solve real-world problems.

Competent, determined and quick-thinking professional. Analytical and innovative profile. Negotiation skills, communication, adaptability to new functions and new environments. Motivating mindset.

During my professional journey, I analyzed data, developed and perfected reports capable of directing my employers, maximizing results and contributing to the team.

Passionate about technology and programming I decided to follow my dream and become a developer. In 2020 I started my studies and, from there, I developed some projects and today I can work with JavaScript, HTML, CSS and Git.

Now, my goal is to continue to improve myself and develop new skills in companies that give me the opportunity to grow professionally and personally.
